THE LITTLE SISTER.

BY MARY IRVING.

"Of such is the kingdom of heaven."

Golden-haired and heaven-eyed,
Sits a wee one by my side,
Looking up and smiling;
White as dairy in July,
From the Sun's great guardian eye
Warmth and sweetness willing.

Never dream of poet-heart—
Never miracle of art—
Won a fairer treasure!
'T is a budding woman-soul
Baptized in the beautiful—
Best of angels, bless her!

All the day-time she has played
Where the bees their murmur made
With her glad self only;
Making sweet companionship
With the clover-flowers they sip—
Scorning to be lonely!

Often on her up-turned face,
For a moment's golden space,
Falls the light of dreaming;
Quietly she sits and sings
Quaint and wild imaginings,
To the wind harp's lily string!

Oftener—darling that she is,
Comes she for a smile or kiss,
With her words of wonder;
What has taken grave for her rar
Fantasies we start to hear—
Smile—and sigh—to ponder!

Speaks a cherub from the sky,
When she lifts her loving eye,
Winning him with gladness!
Almost, think we, he hath given
To her hand a harp of heaven
Never tuned to sadness!

For she sings her happy dreams
Not to any human hymns,
Fraught with human fever!
Likest to a summer-brook
Singing in a noiseless nook—
Singing on forever!

When the hours grow holy, she
Leans her head upon my knee,
Thus—in twilight's glimmer;
While she breathes her evening prayer
Softly on the solemn air,
Eyes of light grow dimmer.

Then the dream-hung eyelids close,
Like the leaflets of a rose,
While the lips are keeping
All the day-time's smile of love
For the flowers to nestle above,
When the world is sleeping.

Oh, that she might wander so
Through a world of pain and woe,
Where no heart can hide her!
And, when earthly love is cold,
Trail's path to womanhood,
Grieve that I must guide her!

Were it not how well I know
Who will never let her go
Guideless, I could even
Sigh—"From childhood's thornless sod
Take her up to Heaven, O God!
Take her back to Heaven!"

HOW YANKEE SILSBEE GOT TO SEE THE QUEEN.

It is something of a feat to catch a glimpse of her Majesty when she goes to the Opera in state, as the ruffles and lace of the United Kingdom rush from their country seats to London like a pack of harriers after unfortunate Reynard, so that everything like "painting room or standing place" is magnificently bespoke by nobles and their "right to true ladye loves," all anxious to breathe the same air as their sovereign on this especial occasion. The hall of the Opera House is a jam—the streets leading to it ditto, and as for a box in the theatre—it cannot be had, as the saying goes, "for love or money." They have all been bought a week or two before by astute speculators, who, having got wind in advance of the Queen's visit, are determined to make all they can out of the matter.

A number of gentlemen who had gone up to see her plump little Majesty at the close of last season's opera, returned to Morley's Hotel with faces quite chop-fallen, and a dismal report of the impossibility of getting their noses inside of the great hall.

Josh Silsbee, the Comedian, was yawning over a heavy monetary article in the "Times," and spurring up like an old game-cock, suddenly exclaimed, said—

"Do you sa-a yeon can't get in, Smith?"

"Get in?" growled Smith—it was Albert Smith, the famous author—"Curse me!" they're as thick as six in a single bed—perfectly wedged, sir! You Yankees are blessed cute, as they say, but I think it would puzzle "Uncle Sam" himself to get in this time"

"Would you like to hev me try it?" coolly remarked the comedian.

"No, I would'nt, for you'd get squeezed out of your wits, and then we'd lose you at the Adelphi," replied Smith, who know how to turn a compliment as well as Lord Chesterfield.

"Perhaps I would," rejoined Silsbee, rising and drawing himself up, "I don't often bet, but I'd tell you what I'll do. There's six of us in this party, and I don't play till the last piece.—I'll just bet you three bottles of wine that I get into the Hall in ten minutes from the time I leave Trafalgar Square!"

"Done!" shouted Smith, "Done!"

Silsbee, then, without saying a word, made a curved bee line for Covent Garden, through the market and down Great Russell-st., followed by a self constituted committee consisting of Albert Smith, Howard Paul, and two others, to see the thing done. He dashed through the throng outside of the doors, and tried to get one eye into the Hall. It was no go. Smith was right about the place being heavily packed, for where there was one vacancy, there were 20 waiting to take advantage of it.

At one peep the comedian saw that the aspect of a chance was dreadfully dark, and that trying to edge in anger-wise was about as much use as trying to make three and four count six. The ten minutes had nearly elapsed, and the committee were close on his heels to report progress.

All at once his attention was attracted by a band of music in a wagon entering Bow-st., in which the Opera House is situated. He turned round and saw, by a huge flaring board posted on the wagon, that it belonged to the Surrey Zoological Gardens, which is sent out as an advertising van with a tiger in it, by way of making the advertisement more novel. The animal advertisement was just at this minute in front of the Grand Hall, and the thought flew into his brain. His eye sparkled, and jumping to the entrance of the Grand Hall, thro' which the Queen had to pass, he thrust in his fat neck and roared—

"Tiger!—Tiger! They say the animal is loose!"

This report, blending with the sobbing of the bassoon, and the chirping of the clarionets in the van, brought about a violent commotion among those near the door. Silsbee again stretched his neck and roared—

"Take care it don't jump over your heads!"

Instantly twenty heads were seen in motion, a dozen hats were elevated above the crowd—several exquisites with point lace mustaches, grew blue under that portion of the physiognomy popularly known as "the gills," and not less than fifty rushed towards the door to the exclusion of any quantity of bouquets, fans and "such things." One or two delicate ladies sighed a shriek, and called for "salts," and a couple more expressed a wish for their "pa-," and a drop of mark water.

Nature, they say, hates and despises a vacuum, and so does Josh, and while all this pushing and tearing was going on among the white-kids, he had slipped, slick enough, into a good place, where, if needs be, the Queen would touch "this trowsers" with her train as she passed him.

Before the excitement died away, and the originator of the tiger rumor could be sought for, the Queen in her flaunting gilt coaches, with her courtly attendants, dashed up, and all was again renewed bustle and confusion. Everybody rushed right and left. "Make way for her Majesty," cried the policeman, flourishing his truncheon of office with as much unnecessary fuss as he could make, in the faint hope that his zeal might perhaps be noticed by the Prince. "Clear the road!" screamed the usher with his bronzed stick. The satins and doe-skins pressed thick and close, and her Majesty passed in.

Now as the "deed was done," and the great object of interest had, "like a shadow, come and gone," some of the disappointed had time for a moment of reflection. One dapper little man, with a red face, and a half a peck of white cravat twisted round his throat, which terminated in a bow something like a tipsy letter G, bristled up to Silsbee, and said—

"Aint you the man that 'olered there's a tiger hout hof his cage?"

Silsbee looked down on him for an instant, and replied, with a very long face—

"Me! why, my dear sir, do you know who you're talkin' to?"

"I haven't the honor," replied Cravat, thinking he might have made a mistake.

"You have the honor of addressing the Duke de Silsbee!" replied Josh, without moving a muscle.

"I really beg your pardon, my Lord Duke!" ejaculated the little man, dancing about in a paragon of delight at handying words with a man of such blood, "I sincerely beg your pardon, my Lord Duke—it's quite a mistake, I assure you! Quite a mistake," and he frisked off, redder in the face than ever.

Silsbee's friends, Albert Smith and young Paul Green, who are both up to all sort of jokes themselves, were all taken aback by this last piece of cool impudence. Nobody smoked the joke, Josh saw the Queen, the gilt carriages rolled off, Grisi sang "Norma," the committee reported at Morley's, and the bottles of wine were cracked with "three times three," and a tiger!

☞ Major Gen. Scott, we see it stated, honored Kossuth with a call on New-Year day. While there, Gen. Cass came in, and going up to Gen. Scott, exclaimed, in his usual puffy manner, "well, General, are you prepared to lead a hundered thousand brave Americans to Hungary to assist our friend, the Governor?" Sir," replied General Scott, drawing himself up to the height of his stately person, "I am prepared to lead my countrymen wherever Congress directs me to go!" The answer was that of a true American, and worthy "the hero of a hundered battles,"

UNDER THE NAME AND FIRM OF

RUFUS KING & CO.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

From Madison.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE SENTINEL.

MADISON, Jan. 21, 1852.

It is with regret that many of the members have noticed the article in the Madison Statesman, reviewing the Message. The idea advanced therein that, because Governor Farwell was elected by votes of all parties, he was therefore precluded from making any allusion to subjects upon which individuals of the parties other than that to which he is known to belong, may differ with him, cannot stand a moment's consideration.—Such rules, if carried to the extreme, would deny to the Executive all right to recommend any action upon any subject; for there are no subjects upon which we do not differ: and, if ever there should be a Governor elected by nearly a unanimous vote, the Executive would only refer the Legislature to the Reports of the State Officers, and tell them that, as everybody had voted for him, he had nothing to say, and nothing to recommend. I don't believe in any such doctrine, and honor the Governor for his straight-forward recommendations upon every subject considered in his Message, and, so long as Wisconsin remains a portion of the U. S., I trust that her Governors will continue to speak their minds on all pressing subjects, of interest to the whole people.

The Madison papers have withdrawn their reporters, in consequence of the passage of the resolution restricting the payment to $1 for the session, and have sent in a memorial for the furnishing of reports by the Assembly. If the session should be protracted much beyond six weeks, the payment proposed ($1) will be too little to remunerate them, or others. This was soon followed by a memorial from two of us outsiders, asking for equal justice to the Milwaukee papers which furnish reports, viz: the Sentinel and Free Democrat.

The Senate has passed to the 2d reading a bill allowing the Milwaukee, Green Bay and Chicago R. R. Co., to borrow money at any rate of interest, and to extend to Lake Superior, or to Minnesota.

Mr. Graham's bill to authorize Banking was ordered printed. It contains some 130 folios, and will be sent to you as soon as it can be obtained. It provides for individual liability of stockholders, in proportion to their stock, after the property of the bank shall be exhausted.

The Printing Committee, reported to have the State reports printed in the following numbers and order:—2500 of the Sec'y of State's Report—2500 of the State Prison—3400 of the State Sup't—2500 of the Commissioners of School and University Lands—1500 of the Institute for the Blind. In Committee, a move was made to have 2500 copies of the report of the Commissioners of Public Works printed first, inasmuch as it is a matter of the greatest importance, and one which will occupy much attention. The disposition of the members of both houses, is, I believe, to make the shortest possible examination into the subject referred to.

The House insisted this morning on its "breaking-team" committee of 10 on the apportionment, but appointed a committee of conference.

Among the curiosities of the day was a petition pre-ented by Dr. Peak, of Brown, to exempt farm houses and lands from taxation; and, also, the announcement that the Court at Milwaukee had granted an injunction in accordance with Mr. Blossom's prayer. Stirring times, these! The House did nothing in the afternoon, and adjourned after being in session a few minutes only. There is much business to be done in committees, and they are hard at work in preparing their reports.

I see some Milwaukee faces shining in upon us from the lobby to-day;—Messrs. Lapham, Ludington, Dousman, and others. The State Agricultural Society meeting, which comes off to-night in the Senate Chamber, brings them here, I suppose, though it is reported that the Democratic members of the first Convention are to hold a meeting, and "pluck from their memory their rooted sorrow," on account of the recreancy of the people on the Bank question. Hon. Moses M. Strong was to be the orator, but I have not heard of his being in town. It is also understood that the State Historical Society is to meet. Not possessing the power of ubiquity, I shall n t be able to attend all at the same time, but will endeavor to send you a brief of the proceedings.

W. H. W.

P. S. It is reported that the select Committee on the memorials of the press intend to report in favor of three reporters, two for Madison, and one for Milwaukee. No such arrangement can be made without giving foundation for a charge of favoritism. The only fair method of avoiding the difficulty seems to be to increase somewhat the compensation for the papers by fixing the price per copy, so that if the session be short or long, the actual expense may be known, and all have fair play. W. H. W.

"WHO ORDERED THE CHARTER PRINTED?"—The Commercial of yesterday asks this question, and proceeds to answer it by quotations from the Sentinel, with the hope, apparently, of disproving our statement in the premises. We give its quotations and comment:—

On motion of Ald. West, Mr. Crocker was directed to have the Charter printed in two English and one German Daily.—Sentinel of the 16th instant.

The Charter is published in one whig and two democratic papers. With the selection of these papers the Common Council had nothing whatever to do.—Ib. of yesterday.

We do not like to say that the last few lines are so worded as to convey a false impression, but they look amazingly like it.—Commercial.

☞ The only "impression" conveyed, or sought to be conveyed, by our paragraph above quoted was, that the Common Council had nothing to do with the selection of the papers in which the Charter was published, but left it entirely to the Committee who framed and reported that document. Such is the simple fact and such, precisely, the statement we made about it. We should have been glad to see the Charter published in all our city papers, but the fact that it was not so published, scarcely constitutes a reasonable ground of objection to the instrument, altho' our neighbors of the Commercial and Wisconsin seem so to regard it. We thought them superior to any such little weakness.

Governor's Message.

Having glanced over Mr. Farwell's message we are prepared to say, that in most particulars it has our hearty approbation. We shall not undertake to say, or even to insinuate, that there has been misapplication or mismanagement of the school fund; but many believe there has, and a thorough investigation is required. The same remarks will apply to the Fox River Improvement. If the business has been honestly conducted by those to whom it was entrusted, it is well—if there has been dishonesty it should be ascertained and the rascals exposed. We agree with Governor in regard to a Banking System—give us a safe one or none. We think, too, that the principle he upholds in relation to the public lands, so far as he objects to bestowing them to incorporated companies, is a sound one; though we are not prepared to say that it would not be both just and wise on the part of Congress to make an exception in favor of new States, for the purpose of building roads and facilitating commercial intercourse between the interior and Lake and River towns.—Democratic Standard.

The Message of Gov. FARWELL has the rare merits, in a political document, of great frankness and plain common sense; hence the general acceptation which it meets with, not only from the people, but from the press of all parties. The Commercial is almost the only exception, and the exception proves the rule. The Standard, the democratic organ of Rock County, expresses its approbation of the Message and of its general features in frank terms, and concedes the principle for which the Governor contends, in relation to grants of the Public Lands for purposes of Internal Improvement. We have yet to see the objections urged by the Message to these grants satisfactorily answered.

The Wisconsin vs. the Bench.

The brief paragraph in yesterday's Sentinel, relative to the injunction granted by Judge HUBBELL, draws from our amiable contemporary, the Wisconsin, a column of invective, in reply, in which abuse and misrepresentation of the Judge and of the Sentinel are mixed up in about equal proportions. The personal malice which colors the whole article we pass by. It is a weakness of small minds and the Wisconsin would not be the Wisconsin, were it free from this defect. We content ourselves with exposing one or two of the more glaring falsehoods with which the article abounds. It opens thus:

We had been informed that, no matter what usurpation or outrage Judge Hubbell should commit, the editor of the Milwaukee Sentinel was so tied to him by the obligations of necessity, that he would be compelled to defend his every act.

The Wisconsin was never so "informed." The lie is of its own coinage, and does not even merit a contradiction.

The Wisconsin charges that we "suppressed the important fact" that the injunction embraced the Governor. We published the order, word for word, as it was granted, including the Governor both by name and title!

The Wisconsin says "The doctrine which this defender justifies, that a Judge has a right to issue an injunction in any case that he may see fit, would lead to a tyranny which would destroy all the liberties of freemen."

Of course, no such "doctrine" has been "justified" by the Sentinel, nor is it to be found anywhere save in the crazed fancy of that silly print.

The Wisconsin would fain represent us as taking part against the Governor. So far from this, we approve entirely of his action in the premises, and applaud especially his prompt, straight-forward message to the Assembly on the subject.

Mixed up with these splenetic attacks upon the Sentinel are some of the "same sort" aimed at the Judge: the climax being a threat to have him turned out of office, if he ventures to move another step in the Injunction matter! Whether his Honor, after this nerve-shaking notice,

"Will dare these base displace,
"Or meet Bombastes, face to face,"

we cannot venture to guess. It is just possible, however, that the Judge may regard the Wisconsin's threat as we do its daily abuse—as mere brutum fulmen—the bray of a jackass.

State Agricultural Society.

The annual meeting of our State Agricultural Society was held at Madison on the 21st instant, Vice President BILLINGS in the Chair. After the reading of the reports, &c., the Society proceeded to the election of officers, which resulted as follows:

President—HENRY M. BILLINGS, of Iowa.
V. Presidents, } N. B. CLAPP, of Kenosha. } ORIS DENSMORE, of Rock. } MARTIN WEBSTER, of Dodge.
Secretary—ALBERT G. INGHAM, of Dane.
Treasurer—SIMEON MILLS, of Dane.

Messrs. WARREN CHASE, of Fond du Lac, E. B. DEAN, of Dane, S. S. DAGGETT, of Milwaukee, J. D. MERRITT, of Grant, and H. B. HAWLEY, of Jefferson, were added to the Executive Committee. A resolution of thanks was voted to Mr INGHAM, the hand-working Secretary, for his invaluable services during the past year. Mr. INGHAM has fairly earned this compliment, as well as that implied in his re-election, by his devotion to the interests of the State Agricultural Society.

THE FIRES AT FOND DU LAC.—The following additional particulars of the recent destructive fires at Fond du Lac we find in the last Madison Argus:

A fire broke out in that village on the morning of the 17th inst., in a building owned by E. W. Davis, by which about $2,000 worth of property was consumed on which there was an insurance of $800.

A second fire broke out at 2 o'clock in the morning of the 19th, by which the dry goods store of Carswell & Dee, A. P. & G. N. Lyman, Case & Allen, Norwood, Curran's Drug and Book Store, and Perkin's Hardware store were entirely consumed. Several other buildings took fire, but were extinguished. The loss is estimated at not less than $20,000. We understand that a large number of men were frost-bitten in their attempts to extinguish the fire.

CASS AND MARCY IN NEW YORK.—The Rochester Advertiser, of the 15th inst., says that of the delegates elected in N. York to the Convention, 18 are for Gov. MARCY, 7 for Gen. CASS, for DOUGLASS 1 and WOOL 1. The Advertiser comments at length on the subject, and declares that the intrest of Cass and Marcy is identical by reason of the concurrence of those two distinguished persons. The impression seems to prevail at Buffalo that nearly the entire delegation are friendly to Gen. CASS.

THE NEW CITY CHARTER.—The attention of our readers is invited to the Election Notice in our advertising columns, for taking the sense of the People upon the New Charter. The Polls will be open in all the Wards from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. It is, we believe, conceded on all hands, that the New Charter is a very great improvement on the present one. Such defects as its working may disclose can be readily amended. It seems to us the part of true wisdom to adopt the New Charter, and we trust that every Elector and Tax-payer of the City will vote upon the question.

BURNS' SUPPER.—We are requested to state that the supper, in commemoration of the birthday of the Poet BURNS, will take place at BELDEN'S, and to invite all who propose to do honor to this illustrious Scot, to leave their names with Mr. HYSLOP, at the Young Men's Association Rooms, in Young's Block, this day, in order that the necessary arrangements may be made. Tickets $1,50.

U. S. COURT.—The case of Whitney vs. Amable and Laing, which was given to the Jury Thursday evening, resulted in favor of the defendants.

In the case of C. B. Tatham vs. Jacob Biebrich, a verdict was returned for the Plaintiff.

We learn that the Jury has been discharged, the Court having got thro' with all but a few Chancery cases.

GRAND LODGE OF I. O. O. F.—This body completed its labors, and closed its session last evening. Among the more important business transacted was the adoption of a new Constitution providing for Annual instead of Semi-Annual sessions of the G. L., to be held in this city. The Session has been a busy and harmonious one.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the New York Journal of Commerce, writes as follows:

A political stroke is now in contemplation by a portion of the Whigs, the object of which is to narrow down the number of Whig candidates for the Presidency. Mr. Fillmore is to answer a letter addressed to him by friends on the subject of his candidature for the Presidency, and decline the honor of being considered a candidate. This is to take place as soon as the Kossuth tumult is over.

THE NUMBER KILLED.—The number of persons killed in Paris during the events of the 3d and 4th was 2,733, among whom were 72 women. The number of insurgents was 2,209; the remainder were persons passing by or attracted to the scenes of conflict by curiosity.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE.—We are requested to state that a lecture on Temperance will be delivered by R. N. MESSENGER, Esq., in the Hall of Oregon Engine Company No. 3, to-morrow (Sunday) evening, at 7 o'clock. The public are invited to attend.

COMMON COUNCIL.—An adjourned meeting of the Common Council is to be held this afternoon, at half-past 2 o'clock at their rooms in Martin's Block.

ENTERPRIZING.—We learn from the Postoffice that the postage account of the publishing and book-selling house of GEO. H. DERBY & Co., for the quarter ending December 31st, was one hundred and fifty dollars, being eighty-five dollars more than any other firm in the city for the same period. This fact is a good illustration of the enterprize of that firm in all its affairs. Only think of paying the postage on five thousand single letters in three months—an average of about fifty-four and one third letters daily prepaid. If every one would enter into the spirit of the cheap postage system in this manner we should soon have another reduction recommended.—Buffalo Commercial.

A Standard Bearer for the Fight.

It cannot be denied that we are on the eve of great events. The waves of popular feeling are heaving in Europe. There is a gathering storm about the bulwarks of Privilege and Power, and the noise of the muttering of the sons of Liberty for a great and decisive battle with Kingcraft and Force. So tied together by Commerce, and by sympathy, are the nations of Europe with the American States, that no human prophet can foretell the extent of the influence of a war kindled beyond the Atlantic to establish the civil rights of man. It may involve our entire republic. There is at this moment a large proportion of our countrymen who see their duty as well as their delight in an armed intervention in behalf of the oppressed people of Europe. One of them in particular, is receiving through the person of her exiled Governor, and most eloquent apostle of human rights since the days of Christ, the free and unreserved sympathy of this entire nation. Our Government is one of sentiment. A wise Administration of our affairs reflects the popular feeling—a strong and durable one must do so. The pressure of the popular force upon the Executive and Legislature at the Capital may be such, that our policy of non-intervention in European politics will be changed, for one of active interference in behalf of state-struggling for Constitutional Rights or Republican forms, against the resistance of Absolute Tyranny. If the governmental expression of our sympathy fall short of that and go no further than a demand from us upon the Absolute Powers of Europe that they do not intervene to prevent the recovery of constitutional rights by States that have been unjustly deprived of them, even that may prove a link in a chain of causes that shall drag us as a party into a general war. It is altogether probable that the one thing or the other will be done by us, speaking through our constituted agents at Washington. The case of Hungary has thoroughly taken possession of our hearts and our imaginations.

Now in view of the exigencies of the future, it is become a matter of anxious inquiry for us, to whom shall we entrust the administration of our affairs, and commit the honor and the interests of our country? We say that the times require a soldier, a state-man and a patriot, united in the person of a strong man, against whom the people can leap with confidence. An attorney will not do for us—neither will there be safety or dignity in a balancing, compromising, timid politician. A life spent in County Courts and in political excuses, will be esteemed by the people a poor preparation for the possible duties of our next Chief Executive, in shielding the Republic from the stabs of Absolutists, and directing the right arm of our Den ocracy, how to show its strength. A warrior that man must be—a man who has smelled the smoke of battle, and heard "the thunder of the captains and their shouting"—a man bred to war as a science—a man capable of planning vast campaigns with the precision of a geometrical arrangement, and with the genius to execute them vigorously and with a success so brilliant as to thrill his nation with pride and confidence, and cast dismay upon the foe. A statesman too must he be,—a sound and prudent—and if to these attributes of a leader he adds humanity, a spotless integrity, and a devotion to the public good so single as to preclude the thought of personal advantage, we shall have got a standard bearer that will lead the American Democracy, safe though not without trial to a pinnacle of glory and power, that shall forever be the monument of its history. Such a man is Major General WINFIELD SCOTT. There is strength in his very name—stronger than the towers of San Juan d'Ulloa—stronger than the rocky heights of Cerro Gordo—stronger than the Spanish power in America.

What dignity of attitude would our Government present to the arbitrary Powers of Europe, with the first soldier of the age at its head! It would be taken for the expression of a purpose to strike at a moment's warning for our interests, our rights, or our HONOR, whenever injured or insulted—and to compel, as a member of the family of nations, the observance of the international law upon all points existing, or existence, of essential to our well being. The People that pursues its civil routine with its armor in sight, ready for donning, will be certain to have a respectful hesitancy extended to it by a rival or neighbor, before a flat violation of its rights is committed. No British shot had been fired across the bows of the Prometheus within the range of the guns of any American frigate and in view of the plain purpose of our nation manifested by the selection of a world-renowned warrior statesman, as the Executive of its will: the Absolutists of Europe will certainly hesitate before they proceed to finish their infamous design of suppressing upon their own territory and throughout its confines that Democratic spirit which God implanted in the breast of man, and which we have made the basis of our civil government.

We feel that we speak the sense of this great People when we say, that at this juncture of our relations with England and with Spain, and in view of the brewing troubles upon the Eastern Continent, we could do nothing so politic, nothing so safe, as to call upon the Conqueror of Mexico, and the Pacificator of the North Eastern Boundary to charge himself with the administration of our public affairs during the next Presidential term. Whatever the hunting dogs of office may say, WINFIELD SCOTT at this hour is the People's choice—and WINFIELD SCOTT will be the People's President.—Buffalo Express.

Government Grants.

The views promulgated in the Message of Gov. FARWELL, upon the subject of Government Grants to aid companies in the con-truction of Railroads and Plank Road Works, appear to meet with general acquiescence; or at least, no one has yet taken open ground against the soundness of his position. It has, however, been intimated in certain quarters, that the best way to answer the arguments of the Governor, is to say nothing, for the reason that agitation might call out an expression of the people, against his policy, and certain great and rooted public benefactions would be defeated in their ambitious aims to obtain from Congress, large territories of land, over which they might exercise manorial sovereignty.

There are only about a dozen applications now before Congress, for grants, and if they are all supplied according to their requests, only about Two Million of acres would be thus appropriated for the aggrandizement of these individuals and companies; or only about as large a country as is embraced in Massachusetts and Rhode Island, or in all over one-third of the entire State of Wisconsin. It is said that all the States are receiving the benefits of such grants, and why not Wisconsin? The State of Illinois, or rather the "Illinois Central Rail Road Company," has received the largest separate grant yet made, and it would be well to see how that is to be managed, and what will be the effect upon the interests of the State. The grant comprises 2,572,800 acres, lying along the road. They have been so appraised in classes, as to amount to the sum of $21,400,000, and the sale of 2,000,000 acres, postponed until 1875, and are to be pledged for that amount in bonds; and these lands are to be exempt from taxation in the mean time. Is this a land monopoly, or not? How much will the State be benefitted by immigration in the mean time? Will emigrants go to Illinois to buy vacant land from $5 to $25 per acre, when they can obtain just as good lands in Wisconsin for $1,25? And shall Wisconsin debar herself, now voluntarily, from this advantage? This is too important a subject to Wisconsin, to go by default. We shall pursue this subject further, in future numbers of our paper, as time will permit.—Madison Express.

ANECDOTE OF JUDGE STORY.—The Portsmouth Journal gives an anecdote of the late Judge Story, which has never been in print. A few years ago, at a court in New Hampshire where Judge Story presided, a case came up in which the recollection of an old lady was taxed to ascertain at what time a particular event of long standing occurred. She stated with confidence that it took place in a certain year. This led to a very particular cross examination by a young lawyer, who was wedded to nothing but law. "How do you know, marm, that the occurrence took place in that year?" "Oh, I am certain it did." "But, marm, how are you certain of it? We must know what makes you certain of it."—"Well, if you must know, it was the same year that my second son was born." "Well, old lady, can you not be mistaken as to the time of that event, even as to that?" Here Judge Story protested against further examination; and he said to the attorney. "There is no doubt, sir, on this point.—The mother cannot be mistaken as to the age of her children—if you cannot tell the age of your children, go home and ask your wife, and she will tell you." The blushing attorney bowed amid the smile of the bar. He has since taken a wife.

CANADA RAIL ROAD.—About a year since it was determined to look to aid from the United States in making up the stock subscription for $600,000.—This amount we learn has been already obtained, with a considerable surplus, $500,000 of this amount has been subscribed by the companies constituting the N. Y. and Centralline, $100,000 by the stockholders of Michigan Central Railroad, in their individual capacity, and $180,000 by citizens of Detroit. This of course makes $60,000 more than was expected.

Hon. H. Walker, is the agent of the Company in this city, and we learn that he expects in a few days to be empowered to collect the instalments upon the stock as they fall due.

The near approach of an event in which this State and city are so deeply interested as the completion of the Canada Railroad cannot but be hailed with general joy and acclamation by all, and nothing calculated to accelerate the event will be looked at with unconcern. There is no natural cause existing to prevent the cars from running over the whole length of the road by the first of January 1853.—Detroit Advertiser

From the New York Tribune.

Another Terrible Calamity.—Six persons killed and several others fatally injured.

It is again our melancholy duty to record another appalling calamity involving the lives of six persons, who were almost instantly killed, and many others who are injured in such a dreadful manner that they cannot possibly survive, which occurred last evening, at 9¼ o'clock, at the Emigrant Boarding House, No. 140 Centre-st, under the care of one James O'Callahan.

The facts of the case, as nearly as could be ascertained by our reporter at a late hour last night, are as follows: It appears that at 9¼ o'clock last evening an alarm of fire was sounded in the Fifth District, which was heard by an old woman in the fifth and upper story of the premises above named, which at the time, contained nearly 300 persons, most of whom had retired for the night. No sooner had the woman above referred to raised the cry of fire, which she said was in the building, than the whole multitude were horror struck, turned from their beds, and rushed for the narrow stairs to escape into the street.

The scene at this time, as described by some of those who witnessed it, was truly awful. At the head of each pair of stairs the frantic emigrants appeared, and in their haste to escape, were precipitated to the bottom, and in such numbers piled on top of each other, that six persons, three of whom are named, John Glanvin, John Wm. Dalton, a boy about ten years of age, and Mary Murphy were suffocated. The names of the other three persons who lost their lives in the same manner, could not be ascertained, as they, at 12 o'clock last night, had not been recognized.

Sergeant Dowling, of the Sixth Ward Police, was the first man at the scene of death and suffering, which is only a short distance from the Station House. He immediately informed Captain Brennan, who dispatched his whole reserve force to the place, and had the dead and dying removed to the Station House, which was turned into a Hospital, and beds having been spread on the floor for the accommodation of the injured parties, who were soon attended by several medical gentlemen, who on hearing of the calamity, kindly volunteered their services, and rendered all their assistance in their power.

The following named persons, who are badly injured, were conveyed to the N. Y. Hospital by the 6th Ward Police:

John Hawk, leg and arm broken.
Eliza Savage, shoulder dislocated.
Lucy Cushing and Bridget Houghton, severely injured internally.
William Whelan, shoulder dislocated.
John Eagan, Catharine Sweeny, and a woman whose name is unknown, whose arm was broken.

Several of those in the Hospital, it is thought, cannot possibly recover from their wounds. The scene presented at the Hospital, and also at the Station House, was agonizing in the extreme, there being at both places, fathers, mothers, brothers, and sisters, bewailing, in the most uncontrollable agony, the loss and injury of relatives.

The house in which this awful event occurred, is nearly new, and had only been used for an emigrant lodging house about ten days. Its construction, as far as the stairs are concerned, which are more than usually steep and narrow, also seems to have been badly planned. The Sixth Ward Police generally are deserving of much credit for the promptness and energy with which they acted on the occasion. The dead bodies still remain at the Police Station, where an inquest will be held on them to-day.

The Lost Child.

We learn from a friend from Rail Prairie, that there is a good deal of excitement in that vicinity in regard to the Lost Child of Mr. Patridge, lost two years ago, so singularly, and which caused so much excitement at the time. The story runs to us thus:—

An Indian man and woman, living near Weyauwega, Waupaca County, were observed to have three children, two of which they frequently sent among the whites begging for provisions. One of them talked English, and was pronounced by all who saw it a white child. Some one observed the pretended mother take bread that it had begged away from it, and give it to the other children. This caused suspicion, and, remembering the loss of Mr. Patridge's child two years ago, they began to inquire if it might not be his child. Some one asked it if it knew Mr. Patridge. It said "Yes" that it had lived with him two years ago,—but had lived with the Indians since. The family were taken prisoners by the people of Weyauwega —that is, retained there—and an express sent down to Mr. Patridge. A week ago last Sunday he went up and brought it home. The pretended mother, the Indian, and the other children came with it. Nothing could be got out of the child—it refused to talk English. The pretended mother continued by it, while it was examined, and kept talking to it in Indian. The child had been rubbed over with something to give it the Indian dolor; its hair greased and blackened, and made to hang straight. The child lost was a bright, handsome, curly-headed boy of four years. The child found was a lank, poor, cadaverous miserable looking child, as if it had been shamefully abused and starved. It looked so awfully, that at no hour could the Indian woman insisting all the while that it was her child, that Mr. and Mrs. Patridge refused to own it. It was washed a little, and marks that were said to be on were found Its head was washed and combed, and its hair began to curl.

A neighboring child said if it was Mr. Patridge's boy he would know it by a certain cast on its forehead. The cast, as described, was there. Neighbor's said it looked like the family—there was a strong family likeness. But it looked so awfully, that Mr. and Mrs. Patridge refused to own it. Yet they and everybody were convinced that it was a pure white child; and the neighbors were convinced that it was their child. In the face of all this, on Wednesday, Mr. Patridge took the child and the Indians back, after keeping it only two days. It refused to speak English, yet when its name was called, it involuntarily looked up.

A good deal of excitement prevails in the neighborhood. Mr. and Mrs. Patridge are censured very severely. It is believed to be their child. Two of his brothers have gone again for it, saying they believe it to be their brother's. We have not yet learned of their success.

We have related this just as we have heard it. We know nothing about it personally.—Oshkosh Democrat.

School Fund.

The State Superintendent has requested us to call the attention of the public; and other papers interested, to copy the same—to the following sections of the School Law:

"Sec. 31. The said Clerk (of the Board of Supervisors,) shall, on or before the tenth day of November, in each year, make and transmit to the State Superintendent, a report in writing, setting forth the whole number of towns in his county, distinguishing those from which the required reports have been made to him by the town Superintendents, and containing an abstract of their reports.

Sec. 52. Provides that the same report shall contain the whole number of the children in each town entitled to receive school money.

The apportionment is based upon these reports, and no school money can be paid to counties which have not reported. Portage, La Pointe, and Marathon have made no reports of any kind.

"Sec. 5. Whenever it shall not appear from the certified statement of the clerk of the board of supervisors in any county, made to the state Superintendent, that the amount by law to be raised for school purpose has been directed to be raised during the year by the board of Supervisors of such county, the Superintendent shall not apportion any of the state school fund to such county, and in such case the moneys so withheld shall be added to the principal of the common school fund.

The Counties of Bad Axe, Crawford, Outagamie, Richland, Sheboygan, Walworth, Waupaca, Winnebago and La Cross have not reported in accordance with the requirements of this last named section. Errors in returns may be corrected till the 1st of February, when the apportionment is to be made.—Madison Democrat.

LAND MONOPOLY.—The suggestions of Gov. Farwell in relation to the grant of government lands to incorporated companies to aid in works of internal improvement, are founded in considerate wisdom. The accumulation of lands in the hands of speculators, is an evil which has retarded the prosperity of one State more than any other. The lands thus held draw their increase in value directly from the labor of the settler, in improving the country and making them available, and operates as an onerous and unjust tax upon the labor of the country, for the benefit of capital, precisely like the protective tariff, which the Governor recommends. It may be argued that the lands will be sold immediately, at government price, for the means necessary to carry on the work. This may be or may not be, depending entirely upon the interest or caprice of the stockholder.

It gives a control, an absolute power to individuals over the public domain which should exist only in the government, to be dispensed upon equal and equitable principles' without favor or wrong to any. Appropriations of a general character to actual settlers, we think would add much more to the general prosperity of the State, than the donations proposed to companies. The Governor's view of his subject is the democratic one and we honor him for expressing it fearlessly. —Madison Democrat.

BEAUTIFUL METAPHOR.—The comparison of the journey of life to a transit across a desert is very felicitously expressed in the following lines by Charles Wesley:

Absent from Heaven I roam;
Yet nightly pitch my moving tent

France.

At the latest dates, Paris was perfectly tranquil. The result of the election is: whole number of votes 8,116,773; for Louis Napoleon 7,419,216; against him 640,737, making his maj. 6,778,479.

Louis Napoleon was inaugurated on Thursday, Jan. 1st. The ceremonies passed off without disturbance. On Wednesday evening, Mr. Baroche addressed the President, on presenting the result of the vote, to which the President replied as follows:

"France has comprehended that I departed from the legal course to return to the right. Upwards of 7,000,000 voters have absolved me. My object was to save France, and perhaps Europe, from years of trouble. I understand, withall, the grandeur of my mission. I do not deceive myself as to its difficulties, but with the counsel and support of all right-minded men, the devotedness of the army, and the protection which I shall, to-morrow, so solemnly beseech heaven to grant me, I hope to secure the destiny of France, by founding institutions responding to the democratic instinct of the nation, and the desires of a strong and respected government, to create a system with authority, without wounding the feeling of authority, or closing any path of improvement, and lay the foundation of an edifice capable of supporting a wise and beneficial liberty."

Among his stock was the representation of a steam vessel anchored in a quiet cove, and discouraged with his indifferent success, the dealer boldly named the picture, "The steamer Mississippi, in the harbor of Spezzia." In an hour or two the whole batch was gone, at prices ranging from one to three florins!

Gen. Hayman has been obliged, by the ill-will of his neighbors, to offer all his Hungarian estates for sale.

Douglas men, ditto—and Barnburners a little down at the mouth. All claim a majority and no one knows the real result. I think from the best information I can get, that out of compliment for Muncy, a majority of the delegates will cast their votes for him in Convention, but on the "general result," or when the time comes, Cass' friends will rally strong and be in a majority.

To the Friends of Ireland in the United States.

No. 157 BROADWAY, N. Y., Jan. 6, 1852.

The establishment of a steam communication between the United States and Ireland is a project which has long engaged the anxious attention of real friends of the latter country on both sides of the Atlantic. Aware of the obstacles which any movement originating in Ireland or England for the realization of the project would necessarily encounter, a number of gentlemen resident in this City some time since constituted themselves a committee to effect the organization of an Irish and American Steamship Company; and, in support of the enterprise, appealed to the patriotism of Irishmen and their descendants and the friends of Ireland in the United States. This movement was hailed with approbation throughout the country, and the enthusiasm with which hundreds of persons of humble means came forward to sustain it, was a guaranty of its ultimate success.

Though retarded for a time by various unforeseen circumstances, the undersigned are happy to know that the project has now assumed a form in which the concentrated efforts of the friends of Ireland in America are alone wanting to insure for it a speedy triumph.

A proposition submitted by Ambrose Thompson, Esq., on behalf of the Committee of the Irish and American Steamship Company for a contract for conveying the mails between New York and Galway, or some other suitable port of the West coast of Ireland, is now before the Congress of the United States, backed by the recommendation of the Postmaster General.

We are justified in expecting that the proposition so recommended will receive a favorable consideration at the hands of Congress.

The interests of commerce, which would be promoted by lessening the distance between Europe and America; the health, the comfort, the moral welfare of the thousands who annually quit their native land to seek homes among us; the hope and prayers of millions who recognize in this enterprise as the first practical step toward the regeneration of Ireland—all demand the establishment of the Irish line.

Congress, we doubt not, will cheerfully acknowledge the justice of the demand; but it is the sacred duty of Irishmen in the United States to manifest a lively and an active interest in an enterprise fraught with blessings to the land of their birth, and to sustain it by all the social, moral and political influences which they can command. The enterprise is national and patriotic in its object—to secure its realization is worthy a national, a patriotic and united effort.

The necessary arrangements have been made to secure with the least possible delay a suitable Charter for the Company, which will be organized under the style and title of the Irish and American Steamship Company.

On and after the 1st of February, the permanent office of the Company will be at No. 5, Nassau street.

☞ The intense cold of the past two days quite equals anything in the line of cold weather, which has been experienced for many years in our city. In many places in town, and those not by any means the most exposed, the thermometer fell on Sunday night 10 to 15° below zero. Snow, too. Sunday night 10 to 15° below zero. Snow, too, lies in plenty in our streets, and on all the avenues to the interior, and the sleighing was never better. In other sections in the vicinity of Lake Erie, the weather has been for more than a week past, equally severe. The excessive cold of December has returned upon us with a vengance, and not only in the north, but at Charleston, New Orleans, and other points more or less remote from the tesmperately termed cold latitudes. Snow in the Crescent City six inches deep, and at Charleston ditto, is something new under the sun, and aside from the novelty of the thing, must have caused a deal of inconvenience to the unaccustomed white, black, and parti-colored denizens of those far southern localities.—*Del. TAPSCOTT & CO'S
General Emigration and Foreign Exchange
AGENCY.

NEW-YORK:	LIVERPOOL:
W. & J. T. Tapscott & Co.,	W. Tapscott & Co.,
56 SOUTH STREET.	ST. GEORGE'S BUILDINGS.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR 1851.

AS the season for emigration approaches, we beg to acquaint our friends and the public with our Arrangements for the year 1851, and would inform them, that with an increase of business—for which we are grateful—we are placed in possession of greater facilities for conducting the Emigration and Foreign Exchange Business than any other House in the World, and for which—in a great measure—we have to thank a discerning public for their continued patronage.

In the commencement of last year a large number of magnificent ships have been added to the various popular lines for which we are the Agents, and several others are now in course of construction, all of which will be fitted up for passengers in the most superior manner, and commanded by men of long experience.

By the following List of Packets, and their dates of sailing,—being six regular packets a month to and from Liverpool—four, to and from London—and two, to and from Glasgow—persons wishing for their friends, or those proceeding to the "Old Country," will perceive it much to their advantage to make arrangements at our office: and as hereto ore, our business in Liverpool will be under the personal superintendence of our Mr. W. TAPSCOTT—whose well known care and attention to passengers embarking by our line has won for him his present high reputation among the emigrating public.

LIVERPOOL PACKETS.
SWALLOW-TAIL LINE:
Sail from New York on the 9th and 24th, and from Liverpool on the 9th and 24th of every month.

Waterloo,	1500 "	"	Harvey.
West Point,	1300 "	"	Allen.

THE "Z. P." LINE OF LIVERPOOL PACKETS:
Sail twice a month from Liverpool and New York.

During the past year our Liverpool House have dispatched, in addition to the above extensive list of packets, the following well known ships, and in order to meet the wants of the emigrating public, they will continue to select such other first class vessels as may be required during the year 1851—viz:

PATENT MEDICINES.

Dr. Trasks Magnetic Ointment,
CAN now be obtained in this city of S. JOHNSON, Jr., and H. Bosworth & Sons, and of one or more Druggists or Merchants in most of the cities or villages of the West. The great and increasing popularity of this remedy is mainly attributable to its controlling power over acute inflammation and nervous irritation. From the best of evidence in our possession, from Physicians of the best standing, who have prescribed it, and from others who have been healed by it, we are satisfied that it will cure in some cases where no other known remedy will do it. This it has appeared to do in numerous cases of Cronic Sore Eyes and partial blindness, where the most eminent medical treatment had failed! For inflammatory Rheumatism Burns, Freezes, Ulcerated sores, Scald head, or for relief from a sudden stoppage of the pores of the skin by colds or fevers, a thorough trial will establish its claims to the confidence of the public. Our agents are supplied with circulars containing interesting details of its happy effects in many extreme cases.

☞ The attention of Physicians is respectfully called to a rigid scrutiny of the merits of this article.
